Abasiono Mbat

Computer Science Student at Pan-Atlantic University (PAU) | Web & Software Developer | AI Enthusiast | Driven to convert creative concepts into real-world applications.

Lagos, Lagos State, Nigeria

Summary

Passionate developer with competencies in Rust, Python and Web Development. I develop applications which provide solutions to real-world problems with focus on speed, efficiency and scalability.

I have strong interest in building web-based and CLI apps to address complex issues. My goal is to become an industry-grade developer with substantial contributions to cutting-edge projects, helping to make technology more accessible.

Key skills:

- Frontend Development: HTML, CSS JS, React, Bootstrap
- Backend Development: Node.js, NextJs, Rust (Actix, Rocket)
- UI & UX Design
- Database Management & Integration
- API Development & Integration

Recent Projects:

- Collaborated with a team to build the project "PAU Compass" - a website designed to pool together all PAU's vital web resources in one place.
- Finalising a web-based carbon footprint calculator which would help users monitor their environmental impact.
- Currently working on a Dockerized URL shortener web application featuring the use of Rust to enhance speed and productivity.
